

Distribution Engineer

With responsibility for the supply and reticulation of Natural Gas throughout Tasmania, Tas Gas Networks has quickly become one of the most recognisable and trusted names within the utilities market.

We're looking for expressions of interest from an experienced Distribution Engineer to provide support in Hobart to the Distribution Manager, including practical assessment of operational proposals, contract and project management, technical safety and regulatory compliance auditing and reporting.

In this role, you will be responsible for:

- Preparing preliminary design drawings and approving all construction drawings for gas meter systems and distribution main extensions, renewals and reinforcements.
- Assessing and submission of easements/applications.
- Assisting with managing the Operations & Maintenance contract.
- Liaison with engineers and consultants regarding compliance issues.
- Preparation and review of technical standards and procedures.

To be successful in this role you will have:

- A minimum of 5 years experience in the Natural Gas industry.
- Demonstrated planning and design skills.
- Proven estimating and engineering design capability.
- Ability to prepare technical reports.
- Previous experience in liaising with construction and operations contractors.
- Good communication and interpersonal skills.
- Proven ability to work well under pressure and show initiative.
- Advanced computer literacy in Microsoft Office packages including Word, Excel, PowerPoint and Outlook.

A Tertiary Degree in Civil or Mechanical Engineering and/or eligibility for membership of the Institution of Engineers Australia is essential.

This is an exciting opportunity for a person who enjoys a varied work day, takes responsibility and thrives in a busy environment. If further information is required, a Position Description can be obtained from Lisa McConnon at lisa.mcconnon@tasgas.com.au. Applications close 11 August 2010 and can be forwarded to Lisa McConnon.

As an employer, Tas Gas Networks is an established and growing organisation committed to providing an enjoyable and challenging work environment with competitive remuneration and a focus on ongoing personal development.
